SOFTBALL ON MERSEYSIDE by John Bennett.

Here is an account of the progress of softball in this area during the last seven years.

1973. Started the Southport Bootleggers when at the time we had enough followers of baseball to make it a feasible proposition.
1974. We were joined by Lucas Royals of Liverpool, who were in a similar situation. We managed to stage a softball game prior to our baseball game with Royals.

1975. The sport received a boost when wives of U.S. Army men at Eurltonwood NATO depot formed a team. The Aintree Indians also produced a team, thus enabling a four team league to operate.

Sergeant Bob Hooper and our old stalwart Ned James combined to donate a very handsome trophy. We arranged a one day tournament to compete for the Hooper-James Trophy. This tournament was played at the Eurltonwood U.S. Army base. The host team beat Lucas Royals in the final. 1975 was a very successful season, each team played six league games in addition to the Final Tournament. Final placings were U.S. Army, Lucas Royals, Birkdale Bootleggers, Aintree Indians.

1976. A similar format was enjoyed this season, with Birkdale Bootleggers emerging victorious on all counts.

1977. Aintree Indians had disbanded during the close season. After having played only two games Lucas Royals also disbanded. Their demise being caused by an unfortunate disagreement among their officials. This left only Bootleggers and the U.S. Army Eurltonwood Babes to finish the season. Bootleggers were again champions. During the 1977-78 close season Eurltonwood left the scene because of declining numbers at the U.S. base.

During that close season, Mr. Meadows and myself managed to produce a junior team from Litherland High School. We also came up with a boys' baseball team from the same school. We also succeeded in forming a very junior team from Bootle I.H. & Y.W.C.A.

1978. We only managed to play the occasional game, four in all; plus two one day tournaments with R.A.F. Bawtry, near Doncaster. One of the tournaments was played at R.A.F. Bawtry, the other at Southport. These tournaments were arranged in co-operation with Captain Al. Richards, who was on loan to the R.A.F. from the U.S.A.F.

1979. A very similar set-up, Bootle A.F., Litherland High School and Southport Bootleggers. By now Bootleggers were becoming despondent at the lack of opposition, although we did have a repeat tournament with R.A.F. Bawtry, which we won.

A three team tournament was laid on at Southport in late July. R.A.F. Bawtry were unable to compete. Litherland Wildcats were victors, carrying off the Hooper-James Trophy from Bootleggers after both these teams had vanquished Eootle Y.M.C.A.

The season ended with Litherland High School going to Hull to play Canon de Spartaan of Amsterdam. Even with the help of two very experienced players, Doreen Megson and Lil Fowlie, both of Hull, Litherland lost by 22 - 9.

This was I believe the very first international softball game arranged in this country, and the B.A.B.S.F. officials who organised it are to be complimented on their initiative and progressive attitude to the sport.

The publicity, which we managed to obtain as a result of this international game, has enabled me to interest two more groups; and we expect to have five teams in action in the 1980 season.

(xx) Affiliation to C.E.B.A. in 1980.

Czechoslovakia is an associate member of C.E.B.A., as is also South Africa. Poland is an affiliated member of C.E.B.A., although I can not recollect ever seeing any statistics supplied by that country.

Yugoslavia which is neither a member nor an associate of C.E.B.A. was allowed to enter a team for The European Cadets Championships (boys 15 and 16 years old). This tournament was played at Madrid from July 21 - 25, 1979. Final standings were :

		Pl.	W.	L.	%
CHAMPIONS	ITALY	5	5	0	1.000
2nd.	Netherlands	5	4	1	.800
3rd.	Spain	5	3	2	.600
4th.	W. Germany	5	2	3	.400
5th.	France	5	1	4	.200
6th.	Yugoslavia	5	0	5	.000

Some years ago I commented in Baseball Mercury on what appeared to me to be inconsistencies in the statistics supplied to C.E.B.A. by member countries. I am still of that opinion. Different countries must have widely divergent standards.

Just to select one example from the 1979 statistics. The Netherlands, which has more than 16,000 players, and which operates what by European standards is a huge programme of national and regional leagues, has 28 scorers. Belgium, Spain, and Sweden which have very much smaller programmes all give higher numbers of scorers than The Netherlands.

Comparing the statistics for 1979 with those for 1976, I note that in the space of three years the number of junior players in Italy fell by more than 8,500. In the same period numbers of juniors rose in The Netherlands by more than 6,500, in Spain by more than 1,400, and in France by more than 1,100.

C.E.B.A. lists member countries in descending order of total membership, this total includes a category, "Other Members", that I have not shown in my tables.

The three leaders in 1976, Italy, The Netherlands, and Spain, retained their positions in 1979. Belgium fell from fourth to sixth, Sweden has climbed into fourth place. France has risen from seventh to fifth; while England has slipped one place, and now ranks seventh.

P.U.C. 1979.

Olivier Dubaut, a member of the Paris University Club, and former secretary of the Federation Francaise de Baseball has written to me giving details of his club's 1979 record. He also requested details of all British, and Irish(?) clubs. In 1979, P.U.C. had 132 players competing in senior, junior, cadet, and mini-baseball, and in girls' softball.

Death of Welsh baseball legend.

The above headline appeared in the South Wales Echo in January. It was about a man with whom I became acquainted in 1939. It was in 1939, that the National Baseball Association sent a paid organiser to Cardiff to launch the American game. The organiser, Andrew McGraw, an Edinburgh man, had lived in Cleveland, Ohio for many years. Before coming to Cardiff he had been successful in fostering the game in Yorkshire. For example, the game was introduced to Hull in 1936, and by 1938, there were 1,000 players in that city.

The rest of Yorkshire did not show such explosive growth, nevertheless cities such as Leeds, Bradford, York and Sheffield had amateur baseball, and schools' baseball leagues.

Freddie Fish, the person referred to by the headline, was the only well-known player to desert the Welsh Baseball Union code to take up the American code. He was buried on January 3rd. of this year.

Andrew McGraw, as part of his launching effort, hired the Jackson Hall in Cardiff. There, each Monday evening, from early in 1939 until the season began, interested people could attend and get the feel of gloves, by throwing balls to each other; swing bats at a ball fixed on a batting tee, and study the rules. This study period ended with a film show set for the end of April.

McGraw managed to get seven teams organised, R.A.F. St. Athan, R.A.F. Lalloon Barrage, Western Mail & Echo, Central Y.M.C.A., Lumberjacks, St. David's, and Penylan Social Club. The two R.A.F. teams, and Western Mail & Echo had baseball uniforms, the other clubs started the season with either football or cricket shirts, and wore grey flannel trousers which they tucked into the tops of their socks. Y.M.C.A. eventually obtained a set of black or navy baseball trousers which they wore with their red and black squared soccer shirts.

For most of the season the best team in the Cardiff Amateur Baseball League, described in the local press as the Cardiff American Baseball League, was R.A.F. St. Athan. This team, playing in colourful green and gold uniforms, consisted of Canadians, with the exception of the third baseman, a native of Halifax, Yorkshire. R.A.F. St. Athan was the team that drew the crowds. They went on to win the league championship.

Central Y.M.C.A. were very lucky as they managed to sign a young man who had been educated in the U.S.A., and had played baseball at college level in upstate New York. He was named Glanville Davies, and did the pitching for Y.M.C.A., he was almost certainly the best pitcher in the league.

Freddie Fish also signed for Y.M.C.A., in the E.S.A./W.B.U. game he played in the covers, and when he transferred to the American game he played in the outfield, which would more or less be akin to playing in his earlier role. He had played for Wales versus England on a number of occasions, captaining Wales versus England at the Cardiff Arms Park in 1936.

Behind the pitching of Glanville Davies, and with the considerable hitting ability of Freddie Fish, the young and very keen Y.M.C.A. team improved rapidly as the season progressed. At the end of the season they shocked the R.A.F. St. Athan team, which had overpowered the opposition during the league season, by beating them in the final of the Welsh Cup.

Freddie Fish was barred by the Welsh Baseball Union for playing the American game, but successfully appealed for re-instatement during the war years. When I attempted to organise the American game in Cardiff in 1950, he contacted me, and introduced me to several potentially useful contacts who might have joined such a movement if I had continued with my effort.

I last met him in August 1978, and he still showed an interest in learning of the state of the American game in the U.K.

In 1979 a new team played in Division II, this was Beveren, which is connected with the soccer club of the same name that won the Belgian soccer championship in 1979. In 1979 Belgium had a new national coach, Ken Dugan, head coach of David Lipscomb College at Nashville, Tennessee. This college won U.S. College National Titles in 1977 and 1979.

Bell Telephone is celebrating its 50th. year in 1980, while Berchem is celebrating its 30th year. Each club is arranging a major tournament to mark these important landmarks.

Belgium will compete in the North European Cup which is being held at Stockholm, Sweden in late June. The European Junior Championships will be staged in Belgium in 1980, from 8th. to 15th. August.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA.

Baseball and softball are governed by the Czech Baseball & Softball Association; the games are played in Bohemia and Moravia, but not in Slovakia, hence a body representing the whole of the federation could not be formed. However, the sports are recognized and supported by the national sports federation.

Most of the Japanese clubs are owned by industrial concerns, and are usually described by the name of the owner, and not by the name of the city in which the club plays. For examples, Yomiuri is a newspaper group; and Taiyo is the name of a whaling company.

Three years ago I gave details of the Japanese clubs. Since then Taiyo Whales have moved from Kawasaki to Yokohama. Lotte Orions have shifted from Sendai to Kawasaki. Crown Lighter Lions played in Haiwada Stadium (Nukuoka), they have transformed to Seibu Lions, and now play at Tokorozawa Stadium(Saitama).

Japanese professional baseball has adopted a rule allowing a maximum of three foreign born players to a club, most of these players are from the U.S.A., Taiwan, and South Korea. A notable signing during the past winter has been that of Roy White, who, after 13 years of outstanding service to the New York Yankees, has joined the Tokyo Yomiuri Giants.

SWEDEN

In 1979, the Swedish League had Division I; three Division II, which are regionalised; and a Division III which catered for seven teams in Stockholm.

Division I operates a basic league schedule, then the top four clubs play-off to decide the Swedish Champion. The bottom four clubs usually play an eliminating series to decide which club will be relegated.

 Softball Federation held in December
 was attended by three new clubs,
 Holbaek, Slagelse, and Vikings of East Copenhagen.

The DBSF received 5,000 Danish Crowns from the Danish Cultural Department.

The DBSF intends to send a national team to Stockholm in June to compete in the North European Cup; the federation needs another 20,000
 Dan. Cr.

For 1980 the DBSF will arrange a national junior tournament prior to the Danish Championship.

For 1980 only two foreign players will be permitted on the playing field at the same time; and clubs are only allowed the use of one foreign pitcher in a game.

FINLAND

The Swedish Baseball & Softball Federation continues its contacts with Finland.

This coming season the girls softball team of Turku Bases will compete in the new Swedish Division II softball league. The boys of Turku Bases are going to Stockholm to play friendly games versus teams in the Div. III

 baseball league.

The Finnish and Swedish teams taking part in this trans-Baltic activity are travelling free across the Balt-
